

Antonio
Galloni
90 PTS

Wine
Enthusiast
90 PTS

Wine
Spectator
89 PTS

TASTING NOTES

Slightly off-dry finish and delicate floral aromas balanced with a citrus, pear nose.

Le Colture Valdobbiadene Dry Cruner

COUNTRY ABV
Italy 11%

REGION VARIETALS
Veneto Glera

APPELLATION
DOCG Valdobbiadene
Prosecco Superiore

WINERY

Valdobbiadene is located right in the heart of the lively and lush green hills of Prosecco. Le Colture is a winery and a cellar that has been in the hands of the same family since 1500. Cesare and Renato Ruggeri are the current custodians of this extraordinary heritage of experience, large and small production secrets, a knowledge of the territory and its grapes, an inbred sensitivity for the health of the vines, and the humors in the cellar.

The bottles that leave this vineyard, year after year, are the result of the efforts of a well assorted and close-knit family clan. Each member of the family is directly involved in every production phase—running the management of the vines, selecting the grapes, the various stages of the wine-making, all through to marketing and sales.

CULTIVATION

A Spumante wine that is obtained from an exclusive selection of Glera grapes grown uniquely in Valdobbiadene vineyards. The grapes are harvested from mid-September until mid-October.

VINIFICATION

Soft pressing of the grapes, fermentation of the must in absence of skins at a controlled temperature. After removing the accumulated foam, the second fermentation takes place in closed steel vats with the Charmat method at a controlled temperature.