The Three Things To Know

1. Texture in Friuli

Nicola Manfredari is one of Italy's most highly regarded winemakers, representing the best of Friuli. He is particularly praised for his ability to bring remarkable textural complexity to Friuli's white varietals.

2. "The Land Gives Us More Lessons Than Any Books"

Nicola lets the land guide his farming, using precise pruning to manage yields and maximize sun exposure. No fertilizers are used, and full grass coverage is maintained in the vineyards. In the cellar, he takes a hands-off approach, relying on gravity.

3. From the Pharmacy to Friuli

Nicola began his career in pharmacy, but after much back-and-forth with his mother, he ultimately chose a future among the vines. His scientific background and curious nature have since helped make him one of Friuli's top producers.

Our Relationship

"I used to get places the old-fashioned way... asking old men in Italy where to find a producer. I asked a man in his mid-70's about Borgo del Tiglio, but he said, 'Cormòns, never been - must be one kilometer from here'. As if half a mile was too far!"
